

How Much Does Insurance Cost?

---

Each insurance company has its own price. When you get ready to buy insurance, you should shop around. You can save a lot of money by shopping.

Review the car insurance price comparisons for your area of the state, then answer the following questions:

1. Which company has the lowest price?
2. What is the difference between the lowest price and the highest one?
3. Which companies have the best financial rating?
4. Which one has the lowest complaint index?
5. What is a complaint index and why is it important?

Tip: use sites like The Zebra, Compare.com, and NerdWallet to easily compare rates.

Now look at the price comparisons for home, health, and life insurance and answer the same questions: Show the price comparisons to your parents and talk about what you learned. Can they save money by shopping around?

Home

1. Which company has the lowest price?
2. What is the difference between the lowest price and the highest one?
3. Which companies have the best financial rating?
4. Which one has the lowest complaint index?

Tip: use sites like MyHippo.com, QuoteWizard.com, and CoverHound.com to easily compare rates.

Health

1. Which company has the lowest price?
2. What is the difference between the lowest price and the highest one?
3. Which companies have the best financial rating?
4. Which one has the lowest complaint index?

Tip: use sites like MyHippo.com, PickHealthInsurance.com, and CoverHound.com to easily compare rates.

Life

1. Which company has the lowest price?
2. What is the difference between the lowest price and the highest one?
3. Which companies have the best financial rating?
4. Which one has the lowest complaint index?

Tip: use sites like PolicyGenius and Insurify to easily compare rates.